PAUL M. MOORE

Earlington Man Honored With Presidency by Kentucky Press Association.

LANDRAM CHOSEN VICE PRESIDENT.
VISIT TO PLACES OF INTEREST.

NEW OFFICERS OF K. P. A.
President — Paul M. Moore, Earlington Bee.
Vice President — Louis Landram, Lancaster Record.
Secretary and Treasurer — R. E. Morningstar, Bowling Green Courier.

The Lexington Leader of July 23 says:
After the superb entertainment at Judge Mulligan's last night, which did not come to a close until late, the editors were a half hour late in getting out to the morning session, which was not called to order at the court house by President Watkins until 9 o'clock. Even at that hour there was not a full attendance. But few of the ladies were present at the morning session.

BROWN ON ADVERTISING.
Editor Lew B. Brown, of the Harrodsburg Democrat, was the first on the program.

Mr. Brown is both a lawyer and an editor, but, as he expressed it in his preliminary remarks, his love was decidedly strongest for journalism; that he ran a newspaper for a living and practiced law to keep the ghost walking. Mr. Brown read an exhaustive essay on the subject of "Legal Advertising," giving the members of the association many valuable points on this most important adjunct of newspaper work. He said that very few editors and still fewer lawyers were acquainted with the law relative to legal advertising and that the editors would materially increase their revenues by keeping an eye on this point. He depreciated competitive bidding among newspapers for legal or statutory advertising and cited several instances of how editors had cut their own throats in bidding for this work. He insisted that the newspapers hold the officials strictly to the letter of the law and make them comply with the law in this particular.

Mr. Brown's paper was a revelation to many of the editors and was listened to attentively and liberally applauded.
On motion of Editor Loving W. Gaines, of the Elkton Progress, the thanks of the association were tendered Editor Brown for the preparation and distribution of his exhaustive "Digest on Legal Advertising," a copy of which was given each member. This motion was unanimously adopted.

Mr. Clarence E. Woods in an ardent speech strongly commended Mr. Brown for his interest in the profession and his courage in advocacy reforms in the advertising law.

President T. G. Watkins followed Mr. Brown with some valuable suggestions in regard to the advertising laws. He said that he had recently heard that a move was on foot to repeal the present law and he earnestly insisted that the association take proper steps to combat any such effort. He spoke of the importance of Kentucky's having a suitable exhibit at the St. Louis Exposition, and urged the editors to use their influence to this end.

In retiring from the office of President, which he has filled so acceptably, Mr. Watkins extended the work of the association and the profession in general and extended his hearty thanks for the honors and courtesies he had received while its presiding officer.

MORNINGSTAR'S REPORT.
Secretary R. E. Morningstar read his report, which showed a surplus of $1,000.95 in the treasury.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.
The annual election of officers was then taken up.

Ernest Smith, of the Carrollton Democrat, in a speech full of wit and eloquence, nominated Paul M. Moore, of the Earlington Bee, for President of the association. The nomination was ably seconded by Loving W. Gaines, of the Elkton Progress, and Col. J. G. Craddock, of the Paris Kentuckian. Mr. Moore was unanimously elected and accepted the merited honor in a modest and effective little speech which was vociferously applauded.

Mr. Clarence E. Woods, of Richmond, nominated Editor Louis Landram, of the Lancaster Record, for Vice President, paying him a glowing tribute as a son of the late distinguished General W. J. Landram, and the one man in Kentucky who had for years successfully conducted an independent newspaper. Mr. Heber Mathews, of the Harford Herald, seconded Mr. Landram's nomination, who was unanimously elected. The new Vice President responded to calls for a speech, saying that he appreciated the high honor and that he would do all in his power to advance the order. And everybody who knows Mr. Landram and his past efforts knew that he spoke from the heart.

Mr. T. C. Underwood, of the Hopkinsville New Era, in a witty speech, placed in nomination R. E. Morningstar for Secretary and Treasurer. Mr. Morningstar was re-elected with a whoop and heartily thanked the association for the appreciation of his services.

At 4:30 p. m. the Kentucky editors start on their Northern and Canadian tour, leaving Lexington on a special L. & N. train for Louisville, where they take the Monon Route tonight for Chicago.

WILL WONDERS NEVER CEASE?

Proposition to Erect Statue of Washington in London.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Pilgrims Club in London, England, a committee was appointed to give effect to the recent suggestion to erect a statue to George Washington in London. It was decided that the subscription should be entirely confined to British subjects. Archdeacon Sinclair, in submitting the plan to the society said: "Englishmen have at last fully recognized the great quality of Washington. I feel assured that nothing would be more popular in this country than such a tribute to that great man of English birth who has done so much for the world's history, not only for the young nation across the sea, but for Great Britain as well." Archdeacon announced that he was authorized to offer a place for the statue in St. Paul's Cathedral.

Editor Nominated.

W. P. Walton, editor of the Lexington Democrat has been appointed by Miss Clara Barton, president of the Red Cross Society, as a member of the advisory board. Each State has one representative on the board.

John D. Rockefeller says he can get light by praying for it, but it's not the kind that pays money.

EARLINGTON.

Some Facts About This Thrifty Town
Where All the People Are Happy, Contented and Busy.

THE IDEAL POOR MAN'S TOWN
WHERE WORK IS PLENTIFUL
AND WANT UNKNOWN.

Earlington, Hopkins county, Ky., is the best and busiest town of its size in the State. With over 4000 inhabitants it contains more people who own their own homes, have all the necessities and many more of the luxuries of life than any other mining and railroad town in the country and possibly in the world. The St. Bernard Mining Company, whose mines produce every day in the year (except Sunday) 3,000 tons of coal, among which is the famous No. 9 lump, is one of the largest and best companies in Kentucky. This company employs 1,500 men and a number of its employees have been working for them for a period of thirty years. All of these old timers have homes of their own and money in the bank for emergencies. This city is also a subdivision of the Henderson division of the L. & N. railroad, and several hundred railroad men with their families make this place their home. The train masters, dispatchers and supervisors offices are located here as is also the round house with Foreman O'Brien in charge.

Earlington is a busy town, her people are busy people, there are no loafers here, the miners work, the railroad men work, people in other positions work and that is the chief reason why Earlington people are happy and contented; they are so busy pursuing their own avocations they have no time to interfere with the affairs of others. We have recently completed a three story brick free school building at a cost of $17,000 which is equipped with the latest improvements as to ventilation, heating, etc. The free school lasts nine months and is under the management of an efficient corps of teachers with Miss Minnie Bourland as principal. For a pleasure resort the people of this city have a beautiful lake covering 100 acres with a large shady park adjoining. This lake is well stocked with game fish and affords much pleasure boat riding and fishing in summer and skating in winter.

Earlington is and has been a prohibition town for a number of years, consequently her people are sober and industrious, spending their money on their homes and families and placing it where it will be as bread cast upon the waters.

We also have splendid water works, the town is well lighted by electricity and has an efficient police and fire department. In addition to what has already been mentioned we have

President Paul M. Moore, of the Kentucky Press Association, has appointed the following committees:

Wedded at Seventy-One.

With the body of his sister lying in a coffin in the front parlor, and with the sorrowing friends and minister present to attend the funeral, Capt. William S. Burt, aged 71 years, of Gray, Herkimer county, N. Y., was married the other day to Miss Ruth Bly, aged 60 years.

The dead sister was Miss Amelia Burt, and the three had resided together for years. The neighbors had been wondering what arrangements Capt. Burt would make after the death of his sister. They did not, however, expect any definite information until after the funeral, at least.

Rev. S. Nelson, of North Gage, was engaged to conduct the funeral service. When he arrived he was surprised to learn that his services would be required for a marriage. Capt. Burt told him that he and Miss Bly had decided to be united in matrimony.

It took but a few moments to tie the knot, and after a brief period, devoted to congratulations, the funeral ceremony took place.

SHROUDED IN MYSTERY.

Young Miller Disappears From His Home in Crofton.

Otto Burkholder, who had been in the employ of his brothers, proprietors of the Crofton mills, at Crofton, disappeared from his home at an early hour last Friday and his whereabouts are still unknown. He arose from his bed, and kissing his wife and little child, went to the mill, where he changed his clothing. When last seen he was going a foot toward Henderson. His relatives think it may be his intention to enlist in the army. Burkholder is about thirty years old and came to this county from Troy, O., several years ago. He was very popular and his strange conduct is shrouded in mystery.

Support Your Paper.

There is hardly any way in which a person can do so much for his own locality, with so little cost and at the same time with so much benefit to himself and his family, says the Ray City News, as by giving a hearty support to his local paper. A newspaper with evidence of substantial support in its pages speaks volumes for a town. The fact that every trade seeker has an advertisement in it impresses strangers.

SPLIT IN CHURCH

Rev. W. C. Wilson Expelled for Holding Meetings in Another Circuit Without Consent.

SOMETHING DOING IN THE METHODIST CHURCH AT HANSON.

The following special sent out from Hanson under date of July 25 was published in Sunday's Owensboro Messenger:

"A new and unexpected phase in the Rev. W. C. Wilson controversy was brought out this morning when members of the Methodist church at Hanson threatened to remove their membership, on account of the unpopular verdict and expulsion of Mr. Wilson from the church.

"Mr. Wilson, who is a local preacher in the Methodist Episcopal church, South, and a member of that church at this place, was arraigned on the charge of 'imprudent conduct.' It is claimed that he held meetings within the bounds of the Rev. W. C. Hayes' circuit, against the protest of the latter, who is the regular minister, in opposition to a church law.

"The church, through the person of Mr. James Clay, of Henderson, proved to the satisfaction of a majority of the jury that Mr. Wilson did hold such meetings, and against the Rev. Hayes' protest.

"The Rev. Wilson conducted his own case. He claims that he was invited to preach here by members of the Baptist congregation, and that he held his meetings in their church. Moreover, he claims that he wrote the Rev. Hayes, asking his permission to hold such services, and that, from the reply, he understood he had his consent. He further states that he was never asked not to hold the meetings.

"The Rev. Wilson has been traveling for the Methodist church for six years, and has a host of friends. He is now holding a meeting in Jackson, Tenn. He has the right of appeal to the general conference from the decision of yesterday, but he will probably drop the matter."

Hanged.

Claud O'Brien and Earl Whitney, the self-confessed murderers of Col. Asa Chinn, of Lexington, paid the penalty of their crime Friday morning at the Lexington jail by hanging.

Every effort was made by their attorneys and friends to prevent this untimely death to these two unfortunate boys, but to no avail. The jury fixed the punishment to conform with the law, and all efforts to have the governor interfere have proven fruitless.

Arrangements have been made to have the body of O'Brien sent to his childhood home in Memphis, Tenn., where he will be buried in the family lot.

Unknown Man Found.

Dead Near Nortonville.
The crew on north bound passenger train 92 found an unknown man dead in a pile of cross ties near Nortonville Thursday morning. He appeared to be about 80 years old, was well dressed and had dark mustache. He was evidently trying to board a freight train and was thrown into the pile of ties, striking his head. Coroner Rogers was summoned and held an inquest over the body in accordance with the above facts.

Would the Judgment Day Be Postponed?
The Chicago Record-Herald pertinently remarks:

Now the hospital nurses are forming unions. What if Gabriel should happen to belong to some union that was on a strike when the time for blowing the horn came?

FOOT CUT.

Jim Morelan Came Near Losing a Foot Last Thursday.

Last Thursday morning, while engaged in running the press, James Morelan, an employe of this office, caught his foot in the form and injured it severely. The flesh was cut open to the bone from his instep to the end of his great toe, making an ugly wound. He was carried to the doctors' office, where Dr. Sisk dressed the wound and sewed up the foot, after which he was removed to his room on Farren avenue. While the accident was bad enough, it could have been much worse, and had his foot slipped an inch or two further the last moving form would have crushed it off. He is getting along nicely at present and will be able for duty in a short while, unless some unforeseen trouble arises.

MAGAZINE STORY.

Causes Heavy Damage Suit in New York City.

A sea captain, Alex Simonson, has begun suit for $10,000 damages against a publishing company of New York for alleged libel growing out of a magazine story. The yarn as published, described a shipwreck, in which the captain was the first to reach shore in the breeches buoy, leaving the crew and a woman passenger to care for themselves. Simonson says he is captain of a ship of the same name; that the boat ran ashore not long ago, and he was not the first one to go to land. He declares the story, although it figures as fiction, has set him down as a coward and damaged his reputation as a reliable seafaring man.

Street Sprinkler.

The new street sprinkler made its appearance Thursday morning and is keeping the dust laid. This is something the city has needed badly for some time and the Earlington merchants and others are gratified that it is now a fixed institution. In addition to keeping the dust down it also keeps the air cool and to a certain extent prevents disease.

Kisses Worth $2.42 Each.

A young lady of a mathematical mind in Ballston Spa, N. Y., was wooed for 15 years by a man who began his love making at the age of 36. Then he transferred his affections to another girl. Girl No. 1 sued for breach of promise, and testified that during the 14 years he had kissed her 1,286 times. The jury awarded $3,000, which is at the rate of $2.42 for each kiss.

Getting Mixed.

The late Bishop Wilmer of Louisiana, used to tell the following on himself:

Shortly before his ordination he was called upon to preach before a large and critical audience where he desired to make a favorable impression. Besides being a young man at the time, he was of a very diffident and nervous temperament, and as the day approached his anxiety to acquit himself with credit affected him seriously. He selected his text however, prepared his sermon and awaited the day with mingled feelings of dismay and pleasure.

At last the eventful moment arrived. He mounted the pulpit his knees shaking with nervousness. After a few preliminary gulps he startled the audience with the following extraordinary text:

"And the cock wept and Peter went out and crew bitterly."

A Pleasant Outing.

It was a merry party of pleasure seekers who went from here Wednesday last week and spent the day at the Lawson Cliffs. The party left here at daybreak and at eight o'clock were at the Cliffs; the children, and for that matter the entire party, wild with delight over the beautiful scenery. Dinner was partaken at eleven o'clock, and supper at four. Some of the members of the party undertook to play flinch, but it was no use; Old Lane could cheat so many different ways that the others gave up in despair of ever winning, and the men, turned their attention to quarts instead. After cliff climbing by the older ones, and donkey riding by the children until all were tired, they started for home at five o'clock, reaching here at eight.

Those comprising the party were: B. L. Lane and family, Old Lane and family, Miss Sally Denton, Mrs. Abby Long, from Earlington; Mrs. J. E. Long and children from Nashville, Tenn., and Mr. Johnny Johnson, wife and little daughter from St. Charles.

All report a capital time and think that a day spent in the beautiful Lawson Cliffs is a day well spent.

Who Has Learned?

Will the dear, long-suffering public ever learn wisdom and prudence and become provident? The long periods of zero-suffering to which a large portion of the public is subjected annually should teach a lesson, and the people should rise in their might and change the worn, old adage about hay to read:

Get Coal While.... The Sun Shines!

If those who do not live on a coal foundation had filled their coal bins and coal houses liberally in the warm weather, when coal and hauling is cheap and the roads good, and had not, like the grasshopper, filled the sunnier days without providing against the winter's rigors, they would not have had to dance and burn back fences for warmth during the cold snaps and coal shortages of the past few years, which all remember so well.

THURSDAY, JULY 30, 1903.

Now let Public Printer Palmer be removed from office—He grossly violated the law when he removed Foreman Miller, because he had been turned out of the bookbinders union.

Miller's only offense was a suggestion that the government could save money by making some changes in his department. This means less men employed, possibly, but it meant better and cheaper services to the public. The bookbinders union, however, says "the public be d—d," "we are above the public and bigger than the government" and demanded that Miller lose his place.

The President, however, didn't think this "union" was bigger than the government, and immediately reinstated Foreman Miller.

Now let him remove Palmer, for cause. The bookbinders union threatened and roared—proposed to walk out and break up the government if Miller came back.

Miller came back and resumed his place, and presto! not a bookbinder quit his place. The government bookbinder has an easy job, big pay, little work and few hours. "What, quit?" not much.

Note the comments of labor leaders on the President's action. W. D. Schardt, the president of Chicago's Federation of Labor says: "The President deals a death blow to organized labor, when he cannot discriminate in its favor. What we fight for is union labor, to the exclusion of all other."

What a happy world this would be with the Chicago Federation of Labor in control. It says: "Join our unions or starve, for no work can be done except by union labor."

Secy. E. L. Turley, of the Nat. Teamsters Union says: "Union labor is entitled to thorough recognition; the President has put himself on record as an enemy of the wage earner."

The President simply says: one wage earner has as much right to work as any other wage earner—considering that the union wage earner is not one-tenth of the entire wage earners of the country, the "cheek" of the National Teamsters Union is refreshing.

Albert Young, of the Teamsters National Union, (a person who assumes the entire ownership of the people of Chicago and dictates as no potentate in this world ever dictated before) says: "The President interprets the law I trust as he sees it but I think he might have stretched a point in favor of organized labor to show that he is working for the right."

Then comes the Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen Union of America by its (or their) president, Mich. Connelly, who says: "I fear that President Roosevelt will not stand so high from this hour with the common people."

The real common people of this country know the President will always do his duty. The foolish vapors of these union officials go far to prove, what is often asserted that the anarchist leaders in Chicago have joined hands with the labor leaders, that control can be had of labor unions.

German Syrup.

We want to impress on our readers that Boschee's German Syrup is positively the only preparation on the market today that does relieve and cure consumption. It contains the specific, such as pure tar, extracts of gums, etc., which have been so highly endorsed for the cure of coughs, colds and consumption by the great medical congresses. The consumptive, whether his disease is in the throat or lungs, must have rest at night, and be free from the spasms of dry and racking cough in the morning. The diseased parts want rest, healing and soothing treatment, and the patient needs fresh air, good food, etc. German Syrup will give free and easy expectoration in the morning with speedy and permanent relief. Small bottles, 25 cents; regular sizes, containing nearly four times as much, 75 cents. At all druggists.

A good feature about radium is that for cancer is that no drugist has anything "just as good."

CONTRACT AWARDED.

Ground for Kentucky Building at World's Fair Will Be Broken This Week.

The contract for the erection of the Kentucky State building at the World's Fair in St. Louis next year has just been awarded to Caldwell & Drake, the firm which is erecting both the Agricultural and Horticultural buildings, and ground will be broken this week.

The announcement of this fact will disclose to many people who have not been keeping pace with the work of the Association that it has been pushing matters with energy and is beginning to reap tangible results. The Association has raised already about $30,000 and, with nine months in which to labor before the opening of the Fair, is already assured of the ultimate success of its plans. Not only has the Association completed arrangements for the erection of a building which will be a credit to the State, but it is industriously pushing the work of collecting exhibits, which will reflect the industrial and commercial resources of the State in a most striking way.

The building will be a most attractive one and it will be located on a site which is the best yet assigned to any State, being so situated as to constitute a part of what is called the "Main Picture" of the Fair. It is very near to the Government building and everybody who goes to an exposition goes to the Government building many times. It is situated at the intersection of two main avenues, one leading from the Government building to the Grand Basin and the other from the Government building to the cascades and restaurants. Nearby is to be the extensive German display and on the other side the out door mining exhibit, which is to be one of the most attractive features of the Exposition.

The building will, in fact, be so situated as to attract great attention and be of the utmost value to the State as an advertisement. It will face an open space between the Government building and the Mines building, in which is to be located the government gun exhibit—one of the striking features of the big show. At this point it will readily attract visitors not only from Kentucky, but from all other states, and it is the purpose of the Exhibit Association to make the building attractive, not only as a resting place for visitors from Kentucky, but as something worth seeing for anyone who goes to the exposition.

The Association has been beforehand in the matter of securing this site and also in securing space for its exhibits in the main exhibit palaces. The fact has been amply demonstrated that this site had not been under taken now as it has been by the Association, it would have been impossible to secure a desirable site for the building and the necessary space for the exhibits, as applications for sites and space have been overwhelming. With the time still ahead of it in which to prosecute both its campaign for funds and the work of collecting exhibit materials, the Association is assured of success. It is receiving assurances of support from many quarters and believes it will have at the exposition a Kentucky display that will be not only a display of the State's resources, but a demonstration of the public spirit and liberality of the citizens of the State, which will be of itself an exhibit of the greatest value.

No. False Claims.

The proprietors of Foley's Honey and Tar do not advertise this as a "sure cure for consumption." They do not claim it will cure this dread complaint in advanced cases, but do positively assert that it will cure in the earlier stages and never fails to give comfort and relief in the worst cases. Foley's Honey and Tar is without doubt the greatest throat and lung remedy. Refuse substitutes. Sold by Jno. S. Taylor.

The Administration is finding it as hard to down the bookbinders as the average man the bookmakers.

WHO WILL BE NEXT POPE?

The Sacred College Drifting Into Cliques as the Time For the Conclave Approaches.

RAMPOLLA A PROMINENT PERSONALITY.

It is hardly thought, however, that he can command sufficient strength to elect—The opposition may present Orselli, Vannutelli, Stotoli or Agliardi.

Rome, July 25.—The nearer the conclave approaches the more two distinct tendencies are shown in the sacred college, especially among the cardinals of the curia, that is to say those living in Rome, but in which the cardinals from two provinces, as well as the foreign cardinals, do not help participating. These two tendencies spring from the personality of Cardinal Rampolla, as the great struggle continues to be in his favor or against him. If Rampolla finds that, in the first ballot, he has a considerable number of votes, he will try again. If he has few votes, and one of his opponents has many, he will renounce his chance and he and all his friends will support, first, Cardinal Goetti, with whom he has the personality of some such agreement, and attempt to raise Goetti to the supreme office with Rampolla as an ally. This would mean the maintenance of Pope Leo's policy on exactly the same lines and entrusted to the same men.

Goetti Inspires Distrust.

But Goetti inspires distrust, because as he belongs to the religious orders he greatly extends the situation of the papacy extremely difficult at the present moment. Rampolla's conditions prevailing in France, Spain and the Philippines. It seems therefore almost sure that if, at the first ballot, it is not probable that Goetti can be successful, this section of the sacred college will decide on Cardinal Di Pietro, one of Rampolla's most faithful adherents. Rampolla, being a Sicilian, can count on the two Sicilians. One of them, however, Cardinal Celestini, bishop of Palermo, is so old, (almost 90) that his relations strongly oppose his going to Rome. For political reasons all Spanish cardinals are favorable to Rampolla, but a dozen Italians, thus making a total of 25. But to be elected pope it is necessary to get altogether over 40 votes, as of the present, 17 cardinals more than two or three will be absent from the conclave.

The Anti-Rampolla Clique.

The anti-Rampolla tendency has more prominent candidates, such as Cardinals Orselli, Vannutelli, Stotoli and Agliardi, who are in a position of difficulty in arriving at an agreement on any one of them. It is already fore-shadowed that, should the success of their opponents be prevented, this group will center all their votes on Cardinal Cappelletto, bishop of Capri.

A cardinal who seemed to have considerable chance of success was Cardinal Sarto, the patriarch of Venice, but now he is believed to be out, because he does not know French and it is not likely to learn it at 70 years of age. It is understood that the Tuscan minister accredited to the Vatican has received instructions to favor the election of Cardinal Serafini (Vannutelli or Agliardi). Cardinal Kopp, bishop of Breslau, who arrived Thursday, has been approached to the same effect.

BY RUSSIAN CHEAP LABOR.

The Skimmed Canning Industry of Alaska Seems Likely to Get a Body Blow.

Tacoma, Wash., July 25.—With cheap labor and no restrictions to hamper them, Russians are preparing to engage in salmon fishing on the Skimmed coast on a scale that will create stiff competition for the Alaskan salmon canneries. The canneries will be established at Pankara and Barankroff bays, on the Skimmed coast, where the fish are more plentiful and fatter than on the Alaskan coast. The Russian company will put up fish at price with which American canneries can not compete. The cost of a labor is 30 cents a day.

A MONSTER ROAST OF PORK.

Sixteen Million Pounds of Pork Destroyed in a Fire at the Omaha Packing Plant, Chicago.

Chicago, July 25.—Two buildings of the Omaha Packing Co. at Lumber and Halsted streets were practically destroyed by fire. Loss, $600,000. The fire resulted from combustion in the lead refining plant.

The refining plant was consumed and the flames spread to an eight-story brick warehouse containing quantities of lard and 10,000,000 pounds of pork most of which was destroyed.

Referred to Judge Advocate.

Washington, July 25.—Complaint has been made to the secretary of war that the Merchants' Bridge Co. of St. Louis, has been refused the charter of its bridge across the Mississippi river at St. Louis, known as the Eads bridge, by a merger with another corporation. Under the law granting the charter for this bridge the secretary of war is authorized to forfeit the charter in case of a violation of its provisions. The matter has been referred to Judge Advocate General Davis for an opinion.

LOST FIVE DAYS IN A SWAMP.

Indian Guide in Charge of Search for Party Found Dead Four Years Later Dead From Starvation.

Duluth, Minn., July 25.—Albert Swanson, the five-year-old son of Charles Swanson, a householder, near Gowan, Minn., 40 miles from Duluth, who has been lost in a great swamp near that place for four days and four nights, was found late Tuesday afternoon by an Indian guide named John Lapario.

The Indian was one of the three Indian guides who had 100 white men in charge searching for the lost boy. The boy was found on a deer trail which Lapario followed for a short distance, more as a matter of habit and curiosity than really thinking the lost boy might be found there. The boy was nearly dead from starvation.

CONSUL GENERAL LONG DEAD.

United States Consul General at Cairo, Egypt, Dead at Dunbar, Scotland, From Accidental Fall.

London, July 25.—John G. Long, United States consul general at Cairo, Egypt, died Tuesday morning at Dunbar, Scotland, where he had been visiting friends. His death was the result of an accidental fall. Long, whose home was in St. Augustine, Fla., was appointed consul general at Cairo in October, 1900. He was 57 years old.

The accident occurred Monday evening. In the dark Mr. Long missed his footing and fell from the steps of the house where he was stopping, fracturing his skull.

Rich, in Juárez, on the night of April 27, 1900, has been released. Her release was the result of the insufficiency of evidence. Those of Mrs. Rich was one of the most notable in the history of the courts of Chihuahua. The account of her flight from this side of the river after the death of her husband and was extradited.

RACE WAR AT DANVILLE.

Jail Surrounded by Mob Determined to Lynch a Negro Who Assaulted White Woman.

SHERIFF'S LIFE MAY BE SACRIFICED.

Angry Women Harangue Men to Seek Vengeance—Troops Called Out and Another Bloody Battle Between the Factions Is Imminent.

Danville, Ill., July 25.—A race war is raging in Danville. One negro, J. D. Mayfield, a refugee from Evansville, Ind., who also recently had a race struggle, has already been lynched and his body mutilated and burned by a mob of 600 men and women, who are now clamoring for the life of James Wilson, who has confessed to assaulting Mrs. Thomas Burgess, wife of a farmer at Alvan, near this city.

The mob began to use battering rams to break down the jail doors. The sheriff and his deputies fired into the crowd. Several persons were wounded, some it is believed, fatally. The mob being repulsed temporarily, sent to a neighboring mining camp for dynamite to again break down the jail doors. The sheriff and his deputies to lynch the sheriff and his deputies and also a negro turnkey in the jail.

How Mayfield Met His Death.

Mayfield met his fate while the mob was on the way to lynch Wilson. The negro was passing down East Main street when the negro became involved in an altercation with some of his pursuers. They started after him and he pulled a pistol and fired into the crowd.

Henry Gatterman, a young butcher, felt mortally wounded, and expired in a few seconds.

The negro turned and fled, but was caught by officers within a block of the scene of the tragedy and taken to the police station, with the mob in hot pursuit, temporarily diverted from their march to the county jail. The officers, with their rifles, took refuge in the city building, barricading themselves behind the door. They could not check the mob, however, for it secured a long pole and tried to batter down a section of the wall and the door, both of which were destroyed. On account of the overwhelming numbers of the mob it was useless for the officers to resist. The negro was hurriedly seized and taken to the spot where he had shot down Gatterman.

It was the work of an instant to throw the body of the negro over a swing him up to the nearest telegraph pole.

Hay, dry goods boxes and barrels were collected, and the corpse was thrown upon the pile. A torch was applied and the flames shot up. When the mob had been satisfied by its fury could suggest, it turned again to the jail, in front of which was still smoldering the human bonfire.

They were armed. Sheriff Whitlock shouted to the mob to stand back, but he and his men were fired.

The warning was unheeded, and as the mob was almost upon the jail door, a volley rang out from the inside. Several of the mob fled. A bullet pierced the head of one of the mob. His death is a matter of but a short time.

Woman Urged Mob to Hang Sheriff.

A woman in a large shout in the middle of the mob shouted and shouted: "Kill the sheriff. He has shot more than one white man on account of a negro."

A message was sent to a mining camp at Westfield, Ill., to bring over dynamite to blow up the jail, and the mob leaders were notified. The mob had started for the explosive. Nearly two hundred men and women from Alvan, where the mob was, were present.

Mrs. Burgess was committed, and was one of the leaders of the mob.

Wilson, it is charged, went to the Burgess farm home while Mrs. Burgess was alone and told her he was hungry.

While she was getting him something to eat, he entered the kitchen door and seized her. He fled, leaving her half dead. Afterward, she managed to crawl to the nearest farm house, where she told the story. A posse of officers started in pursuit of the negro, and when Wilson was captured he was hurried to the county jail to prevent lynching.

There the negro confessed.

Four companies of militia arrived at 9:30 Sunday morning. The mob was dispersed. The negro was taken to the market house opposite the jail and camped. Streets were cleared and threatening attitude of the crowd disappeared. There were no further threats heard, but no attempt at an outbreak was manifested during the night. One hundred soldiers were patrolling the streets in the immediate vicinity of the jail. Each soldier carries 40 rounds of ammunition.

CONVICTS BREAK PRISON.

Thirteen Desperate Prisoners Make a Successful Escape After Killing Two Guards.

USE WARDEN AND OFFICERS FOR SHIELD.

After a Desperate Fight in Which Officers Were Outnumbered Convicts Seize the Armory Fortifying Themselves With Weapons Make a Dash for Liberty—Militia in Pursuit.

Sacramento, Cal., July 25.—Thirteen desperate prisoners confined in the Folsom penitentiary made a successful break for liberty at the breakfast hour Monday morning. After a fierce fight in the capitol office, during which a turnkey was fatally stabbed, a guard killed and another officer fatally wounded, the convicts seized a quantity of arms and ammunition, using the warden and other officers for a shield. From their pursuers, made good their escape. To-night it is believed they are making for the Bald mountain. State militia ordered out by Gov. Pardee have gone to the scene.

The break occurred about seven o'clock Monday morning. The convicts made immediately for the office of the warden, where they killed a guard. A desperate fight took place. The convicts were armed with knives and razors, and with these they assaulted the warden and his officers.

The officers were easily outnumbered and soon had been relieved of their arms. The convicts used the officers as a shield, the convicts started for the armory post on the outskirts of the penitentiary grounds. They passed a Gatling gun on one of the walls, but the guards were afraid to turn it on the convicts. When the armory post was reached, the convicts attempted to interfere, but were quickly overpowered. Then after further fortifying themselves with rifles, knives, pistols and ammunition a dash for the country was made.

Convicts, each armed with rifles, marched on either side of Warden Wilkins, the director of the prison, with death if he made an attempt to escape, and the officers were told that if any of the pursuers took the life of one of their number that they would retaliate, life for life. About a mile from the penitentiary the warden, his grandson and Capt. Murphy were released and sent back. Others were carried along with the convicts. All the convicts are still at large. Among the officers carried off by the convicts were General Overmeyer, McDonough, Some fears are felt for his safety as he bears the special ill will of the convicts.

OBSEQUIES OF LEO XIII

At the Catholic Church, Earlinton, Ky.

Last Tuesday morning we were attracted to the Catholic church on Farren avenue by the solemn tolling of the bells. On nearing the sacred edifice, which is so beautifully situated on an eminence dominating our beautiful little town, our eyes rested pleasantly on black and white draperies and roses decorating the main entrance. Inside the church, we found the same tasteful decorations. There was just enough to make one wish for more, yet fearing lest more might spoil the effect of the whole. In front of the sanctuary stood a richly draped catafalque, surrounded by a golden chalice and patina, emblematic of the everlasting priest-hood of the honored dead Pope. Since his death he is pope no longer, but he is still priest, and will be "priest forever according to the order of Melchisedek."

At 8 o'clock the solemn high mass began with the slow and deep harmonies of the organ and choir, handled by the deft fingers of the organist, Miss Ellen Whalen. The choir, composed of about 25 singers, rendered the soul stirring Requiem Mass, composed by Pope Gregory the Great. Old as is the music, it never ceases to elevate the mind to higher topics. We seemed to forget that we were in Earlinton and appeared to be transported under the vaults of one of the great medieval cathedrals, which probably at this same hour re-echoed with the same solemn strains and chants in behalf of the same venerable and great man, who left the scene of his august and high position last Monday. We desired to see a program of the different manceuvres performed by the choir, but were informed that it is not customary to issue programs on such occasions; however, our editor, a former, who seemed to be well posted, hastened to tear a leaf from his notebook, on which he quickly scratched off the titles of the various chants, viz.: 1. Requiem Aeternam; 2. Kyrie Eleison; 3. Gradale Dies Irae; 4. Offertory—Libera Me; 5. Sanctus Benedictus; 6. Agnus Dei; 7. Lux Aeterna.

After the last number was sung, the priest changed his outer vestment from the chasuble to the cope, and a procession was formed, headed by the cross bearer walking between two acolytes carrying lighted torches. Then came the other acolytes, one with the holy water and sprinkler, another with the censor and incense vessel. Meantime the choir struck up another beautiful and impressive chant called the Absolution, as we were told. Led by a most charming tenor voice the choir sang this last number with much vim and energy. To us it spoke of triumph and victory. It probably typifies the triumphant entrance of the soul into Paradise. We congratulate our Catholic fellow citizens on their unexcelled choir and organist. All the voices, especially the soloists, and the cultivated and superbly trained. The service was certainly worthy of the great and good man in whose honor it was performed.

A Woman's Complexion.
It is rank foolishness to attempt to remove sallowness or greasiness of the skin by the use of cosmetics, or "local" treatments, as advocated by the "beauty doctors." The only safe and sure way that a woman can improve her complexion is by purifying and enriching the blood, which can only be accomplished by keeping the liver healthy and active. The liver is the seat of disease and blood-poisoning. Green's August Flower acts directly on the liver, cleanses and enriches the blood, purifies the complexion. It also cures constipation, biliousness, nervousness, and induces refreshing sleep. A single bottle of August Flower is well known to cure the most pronounced and distressing cases of dyspepsia and indigestion, and swellings of the liver. 25 cents; regular size, 75 cents. Modern Woodmen at the World's Fair.

The Modern Woodmen of America and their allied fraternities are making big preparations for the proposed encampment at the World's Fair, St.
Louis, in September of next year. The Woodmen number about 750,000 members in America. Gen. John H. Mitchell, commander of the organization,
says that 150,000 will be at St.
Louis during the week closing Sept. 5, with "Modern Woodmen of America Day." The Foresters, a semi-military organization allied with the Woodmen, has 80,000 uniformed members and it is said that 5,000 of these will attend the encampment. Many of the Forester companies are said to be drilled as well as any organization in the United States.
The Royal Neighbors of America,
also auxiliary to the Woodmen,
has a membership of 140,000 lady members, and Gen. Mitchell estimates that 20,000 of these will be at the World's Fair during the first week in September.

The Latest From Kansas.

They had a tornado out in Kansas recently, and the usual stories are beginning to put in their appearance in the Kansas papers. That state has a new settler since the last whirlwind, however, for three new stories have come to light. One tells of a farmer who was ploughing
when the big wind struck him.
What became of the rustic is one thing, but the tornado caught the plough in its vortex and whirled it round and round until the entire field had been nicely ploughed.
Another farmer had a lot of corn stored in a bin. In the side of the bin was a knothole. The tornado caught the corn and drove the cobs through the knothole, shelling the corn and leaving it in a nice little pile on the floor. The third story is about a wagon which was standing in another farmyard when the breeze came along and upset it and started the wheels spinning. The wind was hard that one of the wheels is still revolving, and it is impossible to stop it.

Treat Your Kidneys for Rheumatism.

When you are suffering from Rheumatism, the kidneys must be attended to at once so that they will eliminate the uric acid from the blood.
Foley's Kidney Cure is the most effective remedy for this purpose. R.
Hopkins, of Polat, Wn., says:
"After unsuccessfully doctoring
three years for rheumatism with the best doctors, I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and it cured me. I cannot speak too highly of this great medicine." For sale by John X. Taylor.

EARLY DAYS

Of Railroad When Passenger Trains
Returned to Stations.

(New York Press.)

Few persons in these days of mile-a-minute traveling realize the immense changes which have taken place in railroad traveling in the past half century. In the old days, especially before the use of telegraph train orders, the fastest passenger trains traveled at a pace which would make even a Brooklyn trolley car blush today. The Superintendent of one of the great trunk lines running out of New York recently ran across a copy of one of the first train orders ever issued on his line. It reads:

"Freight trains will in all cases wait for passenger trains and for milk trains, and be kept entirely out of the way, never leaving the station on the line of a passenger train, unless on positive information received from
it. The rate of speed is fourteen miles per hour for freight trains,
and engine men of freight trains are not at liberty to make up for delays by increasing the speed beyond this rate.

"The freight train which is behind time will move at a walk
when it approaches the road time of a coming freight train and be kept until the train has been passed;
until the parties in charge of both trains will be responsible for any kind of neglect or want of caution, it will be more particularly the duty of the train which is behind time to be on the lookout, from 20 minutes before the time and point where it should meet the approaching freight train unless it passes it, and to keep a man ahead with a red flag or a red lantern, as the case may be, some distance before approaching curves, until the approaching freight train has been met.

"When trains happen to meet between stations, the train which is the most behind time will go back to the next station, unless it shall have already passed over two-thirds of the distance between stations, in which case the other train will back up. The decision of the conductor of the train which is nearest to the station will rule where there is a difference of opinion. When both trains are equally behind time the train nearest the turnout will back up.

"Conductors will act promptly and in a forbearing spirit when they differ under such circumstances, never detaining the trains on the road. When one party insists the other will give way and report afterwards the circumstances of the case."

Imagine giving such orders to the conductors and engineers of the Empire State Express or the Pennsylvania Limited.

MINING NOTES.

Work at the mines on the Ill.
Cen. R. R. in Western Ky., for July has been the poorest in many years. A span of the Tenn.
River bridge burned down, and five days elapsed before trains passed over it again. No cars were furnished the mines for more than one week, not even to load for points east. The train service was utterly demoralized
and of course the miners suffered.
If cars were as plentiful on this line, as promises, then would all the mines do good business.

At all the mines on the L. & N. R. R. in Hopkins county work has been good, and cars for the business furnished. The coke trade has kept up well, and in both coal and coke, the pay rolls show large amounts of cash due.

Now Campbell, Wells, & Co.,
have taken a room over Drake's saloon and want to tell the working men of Hopkins county what a mine honest set of agitators and anarchists they are. Of course they will explain why they did not organize the county before,
when they shot in to miners
houses at midnight and sent out from the camps at Madisonville
the men who murdered Morton
Bush at the Providence Mine and Sheriff Coffey near the Empire mine. Of course they will tell how some of the murderers
have been sent to the penitentiary for life and that others are to be tried. Of course they will tell the colored miner, how union men in Evansville mobbed and drove out colored men, women and children from their homes and tell them how the colored man as well as the white man (ask Ludlow Flack) is treated by the U. M. W. at Linton, Ind., at Sturgis, Ky., and at hundreds of other places.

Perhaps Wood will tell the people of Hopkins county what he meant when in a former time,
he stated he would wade knee deep in blood, but what he would organize the non-union men.
Those who know Jim Wood think he meant whiskey instead of blood, for Jim is much more familiar with whiskey. He disgusted every decent man and woman
in his former campaign as did his fellow officials and companions—and his office over a saloon
would be appropriate.

The U. M. W. have exchanged their guns for postage stamps
and the county is being flooded with letters to not only the miner but to almost everybody. It will be a good thing for the postmasters and cheaper to the U.
M. W. treasury and possibly more comfortable.

The injunction of Judge Evans of the United States Court is notice to would be disturbers of the peace and happiness of citizens of Hopkins county, what may they expect if it is violated
in the least.

The promises made by the Mine Workers officials in the last campaign, to those who would join them were never kept.
Ananias was a godly man compared with these officials.

Campbell, the colored treasurer of the order until this year
was kicked out and he now comes to the county as the hired servant of Purcell and company.

The U. M. W. are now on trial.
The history of this organization in its attempt to organize the mines of Hopkins county is found in the records of the courts at Owensboro, Dixon and Hopkinsville and extracts will be made from time to time in this column, that citizens can know the sort of creatures that live and thrive off the workmen of the country.

The little child of I. Smith blacksmith at No. 9 who has been sick for several days is considerably better this week.

Ernest Brinkley who has been off on a month's vacation has returned and is again at work in the mechanical department.

The replacing of rope haulage
with motor power is now completed at the Hecla mine. This is a great improvement over the old way of hauling coal from the mines.

J. E. Burks foreman of the tippie gang at No. 9 had his foot slightly mashed last week but is able to be around again.

Hugh Griffin of the Arnold mine was injured one day last week while carrying a load of rails to a room in the mine by being caught between the rails and the roof. The injury is not serious.

The board of conciliation refused to fix the price of coal at which the miners should purchase the commodity from the operators for private use. It looks as though the miners will not be satisfied until they control the whole thing; they fix
the price of their labor and then
want to fix the price of the coal.

Thirteen thousand members of the United Mine Workers of America are idle as a result of the suspension of work in the Alabama coal mines until an agreement on a new wage scale
can be reached.

What He Wanted.

"Yes," said the old man, addressing his young visitor, "I am proud of my girls and would like to see them comfortably married,
and as I have made a little money they will not go to their husbands penniless. There's Mary, she is twenty-five years old, and a real good girl. I shall give her $5,000 when she marries. Then there comes Bet, who won't be thirty-five again, and I shall give her $10,000, and the man who takes Eliza, who is forty, will have $15,000 with her." The young man reflected a moment
or so, and then inquired: "you haven't one about fifty, have you?"
